Backer ! Association in Hot Springs, Va., Mr. Martin W. Littleton, of New York, addressed the convention for nearly two hours, his remarks being greeted with enthusiastic approval. He said the federal and State governments for a great many years did everything they could to encourage men who had money and nerve in the development of the country, including mining, railroading and banking. The federal government gave those who built factories a tag so they might be able to sell their goods higher and keep them up.
Both federal and State governments very indulgent and friendly parent to all of us. Of course, people got rich out of such conditions and a great many men grew very wealthy, and people began to ask where and how they got it. Suddenly the government, both State and national, swept down on them and began a cra-sade, in which every man who had been a captain of industry was suddenly a crook, and every man who had been regarded as an adventurer anxious to develop the country was put under sus-Neither the national nor State overnment should ever untertake to burt or to help any particular industry.

The government ought to keep its hands off, heing neither friendly nor unfriendly, and allow the individual and his enterprise to work out the industrial destiny of this country. Paternalism as long as it remains friendly seems a great blessing, but when paternalism becomes hostile it seems a great curse. This gov-ernment ought to be held so high above class interests that it could not hear the cry of the lawless mobor the appeal of those already fat with privilege."
